Building Resilience & Success in the Age of Uncertainty

Women are dropping out of the workforce at an alarming rate. You don't want to be a statistic, yet living life on the brink of exhaustion is no way to live. Allison helps you not just stay in the game but love being there.

You are Not a Fraud: Overcoming Impostor Syndrome

Imposter Syndrome is a pattern of thinking in which one is afraid of being exposed as a fraud. Allison helps you overcome perfectionism, micro-management & fear of failure so you can be even more powerful at work.

Creating Synergy: Building a Culture of Trust

When teams are strong, they can do incredibly powerful work with little intervention from upper leadership. This workshop is designed to create powerful habits that build trust and uncover the hidden pitfalls that are undermining your efforts.

About Allison:

For the past 25 years, Allison has studied and developed tools which improve communication, build confidence, and create healthy relationships at home and work. She honed her skills as a manager during her seven-year tenure at Google in the People Ops department.
